Begin Work on New Mokena Grade School; Stonitsch & Sons Get Contract With Bid of $96,410

The contract for the new Mokena grade school to be built on Second st., west of Wolf rd., has been let by the board of education to Stonitsch & Sons, of Joliet, and work on the project begun.

This firm's bid of $96,410 was the lowest of several submitted, according to the board. The top bid was in excess of $119,000. The bid includes the work of all trades.

The voters of Mokena school district approved a bond issue of $110,000 April 14 to meet the cost of the school and the site. The site is approximately 10 acres and cost the district $12,000.

The cost of the site and architecture at the final figure, added to that of the building to erect and attorney fees must be paid.

The architects, Kruegel, Wilkins, Healy and Moore, of Joliet will receive a fee of six per cent of the cost of construction.

The building is to be of one story steel and masonry construction with terrazzo floors in the corridor.

When completed the building will have four class rooms and a large, all-purpose room that when the need arises can be converted into two more class rooms by erection of a partition.

The contractor began work this week, starting with some grading operations and was expected to begin work on excavations for the foundations the latter part of the week.

Barring bad weather or delays in receipt of material over which the contractor would have no control, it was expected that the building would be ready for use by late fall.

The grade school board has asked the Mokena village board to annex the new school site to the village.

The bonds have been sold and proceeds invested in government bonds until needed to meet the costs of the building program. So far the bonds have earned $1,000 in interest for the district.

2 Join Staff Of Will County Guidance Clinic

Dr. L. L. Fattersee, Will county health officer, announces that Dr. Richard Koenig and Miss Peggy Turner are joining the staff of the Will county guidance center.

Dr. Koenig replaces Dr. Sophie Schroeder Stoman who has been the clinic's psychiatrist for the past five years.

Dr. Koenig, who is 33 years old, resides with his wife and four children in Chicago. He received his medical education at the University of Chicago and served one year at St. Elizabeth's hospital in Washington, D. C. and another year at Billings hospital, Chicago. He also served a third year with the Institute of Juvenile Research in Chicago. For the past year Dr. Koenig has been employed as a staff psychiatrist for the Institute for Juvenile Research. He will continue his duties with the Institute while serving the Guidance Clinic one day each week.

Miss Peggy L. Turner, who has been employed by the Joliet public schools since September, 1954 as a visiting social worker, will serve as a psychiatric social worker in her new position. Miss Turner will assist Mrs. Cecelia Heichemer, psychiatric social worker, with the case load work for the clinic. Miss Turner received her education at Mundelein college, University of Illinois and received her masters degree from the school of social work at the University of Illinois.

The Will county guidance clinic was organized in November, 1950 by the Will county health department with the cooperation of the council of social agencies. The services of the clinic are available to all children and adults in the county who have problems requiring psychiatric or psychological aid. Clinics are held each Monday. In the past the clinic has been staffed by a team composed of a part-time psychiatrist, a part-time psychologist, and a full-time psychiatric social worker. The services of an additional social worker are needed at this time because of the increasing demands being made on the guidance clinic.

John Gorman Dies Suddenly

John Gorman, of Alpine, died suddenly of a heart attack Friday morning as he was leaving his home to keep an appointment with his doctor. He had suffered three attacks previously last week.

The body was discovered about 9:15 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Nick Ridlin and Mrs. Sigmond Bukowski, neighbors, who seeing the Gorman's car parked near the middle of 104th ave., where it had come off of 171st st., investigated and found Mr. Gorman slumped at the wheel. Mr. Gorman, apparently feeling the attack coming on, had had the presence of mind to turn off the ignition. Efforts of the doctor and the Orland Park and Columbus Manor fire department inhalator crews failed to revive him. He was removed to the Schmaedeke funeral home at Orland Park.

Services were at 10 a.m. Monday in St. Michael's church, in Orland Park. Burial was in Holy Sepulcher cemetery in Worth.

Mr. Gorman was preceded in death by a son Donald, who died suddenly three years ago while in the service. Surviving are his widow, Margaret, to whom he was married, Nov. 24, 1928; two sons, Jerry of Alpine and John, of Mokena; three sisters, Mrs. Ann Truesdale, Mrs. Loretta Stroboscher and Mrs. Lucille Boykovsky, all of Chicago; three brothers, William, George and Joseph, all of Chicago and two grandchildren.

Mr. Gorman was a printer by trade and was employed by the Todd Co. in Chicago.

L-W Band Faces Busy Summer

The Lincoln-Way high school band will begin an eight weeks schedule of rehearsals, concerts and parades at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening, June 26, when the members assemble at the high school for the first summer rehearsal, it was announced by Director Robert Taylor. Schedules of summer activities went out to all band members last week. The mailing list included 31 freshmen who have been members of the local grade school organizations.

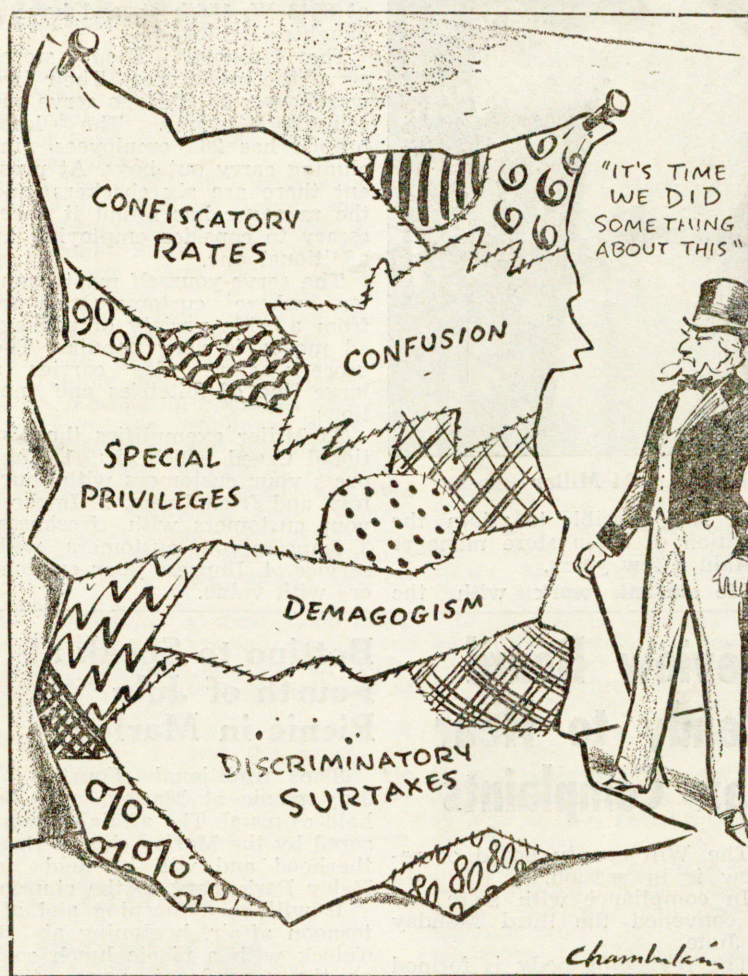

On Thursday evening, June 28, at 8 o'clock the band will present its first summer concert. This will be an open air program in front of the main entrance of the high school. This first concert will be in the nature of an experiment, and if enough interest is shown by the people of the community, the band will continue to present concerts on alternate Thursday evenings, Director Taylor said.

Climaxing the summer's activities will be an appearance in the Illinois State Fair band contest, and an overnight trip to St. Louis which will include a performance of the St. Louis Municipal opera. This last event depends largely upon the number of parades the band can schedule this summer. Money from the Tinley Park parade on Memorial day went into the St. Louis trip fund, and more will be added when the band marches at Orland Park July 4 at 10 a.m.

Edison, AGE Plan $25-Million Power Distribution Program; Build Center at Goodings Grove

Commonwealth Edison Co. and American Gas and Electric Co. today revealed plans for an extra-high-voltage transmission tie line between their two electric power systems. It is estimated that the line and related facilities in Illinois and Indiana will cost close to $25,000,000.

The project was announced jointly by Willis Gale, Edison chairman, and Philip Sporn, president of AGE.

Because the systems of Edison and AGE are closely interconnected at State Line generating station and at New Carlisle, Ind., with the power system of Northern Indiana Public Service Co., arrangement for the new line have been worked out in cooperation with Dean H. Mitchell, president of Northern Indiana Public Service Co.

The new line will operate at 330,000 volts, the highest voltage now in commercial service in the United States.

The transmission line will be 90 miles long. It will connect a big new Edison distribution center to be built at Goodings Grove near Orland Park, and a new terminal at New Carlisle, Ind., to be built by Indiana and Michigan Electric Company, a subsidiary of AGE.

The line will consist of six conductors, each 1 1/2" in diameter. Approximately 500 steel towers, most of them 145 feet high, will be needed to carry the conductors.

There is already one transmission connection which ties the two systems together thru Edison's State Line generating station and the Northern Indiana Public Service Co. system. This connection, however, has a very limited capacity for the transfer of emergency power—normally about 50,000 kilowatts.

The Northern Indiana system is connected to the State Line Station and the L & M system and will, therefore, benefit indirectly from the new interconnection, according to Mr. Mitchell.

The new line initially will be able to transmit 300,000 kilowatts, which is about equal to one-half the capacity of Edison's Ridgefield station. Ultimately, the capacity of the line may be expanded to as much as one million kilowatts.

"The new line," said Mr. Gale, "will make possible the interchange of large blocks of emergency power between the AGE and Edison systems."

The availability of such emergency power to these systems will be of great value in providing continuous service to their respective areas which include many customers who are, in varying degrees, directly or indirectly engaged in the production of goods or services for national defense.

He cited such emergency conditions as during breakdown of major generation or transmission facilities, or maintenance of them, and during periods of abnormal demand.

The AGE system now has 332 miles of 330,000-volt transmission line in operation and another 154 miles nearing completion. Commonwealth has a 230,000-volt, 150-mile line between its Crawford station in

Paul Wunder Unanimous Choice Of GOP Chairmen from 32 Counties For Appellate Court Clerk

Paul V. Wunder, Will county circuit clerk, has been unanimously nominated as the Republican candidate for clerk of the appellate court, second district. This means that his place on the county ticket, as a candidate for circuit clerk, will be filled by someone selected by the Will county Republican central committee. Date for the county convention will be set later.

Wunder's name will appear on the Republican ballot in the 32 counties that make up the second appellate district. This district includes all of the northern part of the state with the exception of Cook county. It extends from eastern boundary of Illinois to the western line and from Wisconsin on the north to Peoria.

This district is predominantly Republican and consistently plumped for Republican candidates in the heyday of Roosevelt and the New Deal.

Wunder was chosen to fill the vacancy brought about by the death of Justus L. Johnson, who was nominated for clerk of the appellate court in the primary last April. Johnson had held the office some 30 years. Selection of a successor was made by the county chairmen of the 32 counties of the district who met in convention last Friday at LaSalle.

Wunder is well known throughout the state, having served as president of both the Circuit Clerks Association and the County Officials Association.

A keen student of politics and with a vast fund of know-how in organizing and conducting campaigns, Wunder's candidacy in the district is looked upon as an asset to the party.

At the convention Friday in LaSalle each chairman was entitled to cast the same number of votes as were cast in his county in the Republican primary this spring. The total exceeded 290,000 votes and they all went to Wunder on the first ballot.

There had been two other candidates for the place but they had been reading the handwriting on the wall in the past several weeks and by convention time decided to withdraw.

Wunder's name was placed in Voters of Mokena and New Lenox gave overwhelming support to the referendum for an increase in the educational and building tax rates of Lincoln-Way high school last Saturday with the result that the propositions carried.

The proposals were beaten in Frankfort and Manhattan, but only by slim margins.

In the overall returns the

Bible School at Frankfort to Hold Exercises Tomorrow

Parents and friends of pupils enrolled in the Frankfort Community Vacation Bible school will gather in the basement of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church tomorrow night, June 22, at 8 p.m. for a demonstration program presented by each department of the school. The school sessions end tomorrow.

Each of the four departments will conduct a fifteen minute demonstration of things learned and done during the two weeks of classes. The program will include a dramatization by the intermediate department and the use of a cardboard church large enough to walk into constructed by the kindergarten children. The primary and junior departments also have interesting programs and demonstration planned.

The offering received will be the only source of income to meet the expenses of the bible school which this year has been operated on a community-wide cooperative basis.

Following the program handicraft will be on display in all the classrooms of each department.

Pupils are asked to go directly to their classrooms upon arrival for the program. They will come to the basement with their teachers when it is time for their department to participate in the program.

Over 185 pupils from four-years-old thru eighth grade are enrolled in the school this year.

ROCK ISLAND CONCERT

The Rock Island railroad choral club will present their annual dinner concert Thursday evening, June 28 at 6:30 in the Board of Trade restaurant in Chicago, in the main dining room. This is always a delightful affair and the reputation of this group is well known as to music rendition, according to those who have heard them.

Miss Dorothy Proper, an employee of the Rock Island, will direct the group singing and Ron Postema will be the accompanist.

increase in rates carried by almost two to one.

The proposal to extend the school year beyond the nine-month limit set up by state law, however, was beaten by five votes, 333 to 328.

By virtue of the returns Saturday the educational tax rate for Lincoln-Way was increased from 71 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to 86 cents. The building tax rate was raised five cents per $100 of assessed valuation, from 10 cents, which was the rate, to 15 cents.

There were four polling places, New Lenox, Mokena, Manhattan and Frankfort. Unofficial returns from the polling places are as follows:

Educational Tax rate		Yes	No
New Lenox		186	73
Mokena		96	16
Manhattan		40	45
Frankfort		89	108
		411	242
Building Tax rate		Yes	No
New Lenox		189	72
Mokena		92	15
Manhattan		39	44
Frankfort		94	103
		414	234

The proposed increase in tax rates was advocated by the high school board to enable the school to operate on its present high standards. The rates that had been in effect were not sufficient to give the school enough revenue to meet its operating expenses, it was explained by those in charge.

The board and the school administrators are pleased that the proposed rates will be approved over the light vote.

There are said to be approximately 5,000 voters in the district but only 650 went to the polls.

That the increase is necessary is shown by the fact that the district was unable to meet all of its payroll for teachers this spring. The board owes $37,000 on teachers salaries for February, March and April.

At a special meeting of the board tonight bids will be taken on $150,000 of bonds to meet past obligations, including the $37,000 due the teachers. The remaining $122,000 is to discharge a debt owed Joliet high school for tuition of approximately 270 pupils for the school year of 1955-56.

The cost per pupil was $450. Lincoln-Way high school opened in September, 1954 but the district had been obligated to the tuition of students within its boundaries until the new school was ready for use.

The bids received tonight will be tabulated and it is expected that the bonds will be sold at a special meeting next Thursday, June 28.

The board will also canvass the returns of Saturday's election when it meets tonight.

The unofficial returns of the vote on the proposal to extend the school year are as follows:

		Yes	No
New Lenox		143	122
Mokena		67	47
Manhattan		33	52
Frankfort		85	112
		328	333

Extension of the school year beyond the nine month limit is a rather technical problem. It would not add anything to the local tax bill altho it is conceivable that failure to lengthen the term may cost the taxpayer in the long run.

The state law stipulates how many days of school must be held in order for a school to receive state aid—185 days—and unless the public has voted to allow a board to extend the school year, the 185 days must be confined to a nine month period. Weather conditions might necessitate closing the school at various times during the year, it was pointed out, or lack of fuel or some other emergency might arise which would cause school officials to shut down the plant temporarily with the result that the 185 days could not be confined to the nine month period.

The district would still have to get in the 185 days of school but would lose its right to state aid.

Some of those in Frankfort who voted against the increase in rates were quoted as saying they were friendly to the school and its needs but believed if the increases were voted down the result would jolt the public into forcing action for higher assessed valuations and 100 per cent payment of taxes.

Rises to Managerial Position With Grocery Chain in 4 Years

by Anne Rodger

Young men who are undecided on the choice of a career, might well consider retail merchandising. Al Miller, manager of the Tinley Park National Food store, is an example of how it is possible to attain the position of chain store manager within a few years.

He started work with the National's store in Elgin, Ill. after his release from army service in 1947. As a member of the Mechanized Cavalry unit of the U. S. army, he served in Germany for 18 months during World War II.

In 1949 Miller was a relief manager and in 1951 assumed the management of his own store in Elgin. He was transferred to the Tinley Park store a year and a half ago. His wife Lorraine, who is originally from Andrew, Iowa, was also employed in the Elgin store. They live at 6642 W. 175th st. and have a daughter Debbie, 4.

The National Food stores serve the middlewest. Their two warehouses in Chicago serve surrounding stores. The local branch has 26 employees, including carry out boys. At present there are six checkers and the manager has found it necessary to consider employing an additional one.

The serve-yourself meat counter, where customers choose from a wide variety of packaged meats, is very popular. The grocery store also carries a large line of toiletries and notions.

Al Miller exemplifies the National Creed which is: 1. Impress your customers with courtesy and friendliness. 2. Impress your customers with freshness. 3. Impress your customers with service. 4. Impress your customers with value.

Weddings, Engagements, Clubs, Women's Activities

Mary Lou Adelman, Homer, Weds R. E. Temple, Ocanta Falls, Wis.

A late spring wedding was solemnized in St. Alphonsus church, Lemont, when Miss Mary Lou Adelman, daughter of the Charles Adelmans, Sr., of 147th St., Homer township, became the bride of AT-C Ralph E. Temple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Temple, Ocanta Falls, Wisconsin, on May 26 at a 10 o'clock nuptial mass, with the Rev. Richard Hills officiating.

The church was decorated with bouquets of pink and white blooms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white lace gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, trimmed with tiny lace edged ruffles. She carried a white prayer book and an orchid. The finger-tip veil was held in place by a miniature crown trimmed with sequins and seed pearls.

The maid of honor, Miss Mildred Topolski of Blue Island wore pale blue chiffon with a blue flowered crown for a head dress and carried a pink carnation nosegay trimmed with sequins.

The bridesmaids, Miss Maxine Fahlbusch of Chicago, Miss Joan DeClue of Oak Lawn and the bride's sister, Karen, were gownned in Cottolin blue made identically as was the maid of honor's, and also carried pink carnations.

The best man was Donald Topolski of Blue Island, and the ushers were Julius Beyer, Jr. of Ocanta Falls, Joe Rust, Jr. of Chicago and John Adelman of Homer. The bride's small brother, Vince, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Adelman, mother of the bride, wore blue lace and Mrs. Temple, Sr., a blue print crepe.

A wedding breakfast was served in the Adelman home for the families and the bridal party. In the evening a reception, attended by 250 people was held at St. Alphonsus hall, Lemont. A buffet supper was served and the company was entertained by Jimmy Stephenson's orchestra.

Following a short honeymoon in the Ozarks, the newlyweds are residing at Lincoln, Neb., where the groom is stationed at the air base.

The bride is a graduate of L. T. H. S. and the groom attended Ocanta high school. He has 2½ years more in the air force.

Joliet Commandery Invites Public to Annual Installation

Joliet Commandery No. 4, Knights Templar, will install officers Saturday night, June 23. The ceremonies which are quite colorful, are open to the public and will begin at 8 o'clock in the Joliet Masonic temple.

C. Harrison Peck, a past commander of Aurora commandery, is to be the installing officer. Officers to be installed, elected at the annual meeting last Thursday, are headed by Dr. Stanley A. Junek, a Joliet chiropractor, who will succeed Dr. Elmer A. Albers, of Lockport, as commander.

Other officers to be installed are: Howard L. Mead, generalissimo; Edward A. Blatt, captain general; Richard Jones, recorder; Harry Swazey, treasurer; Robert B. Dolhof, senior warden; Forrest L. McAllister, junior warden and drill team captain; Dr. Paul V. Hoover, prelate; Raymond Lesovsky, warden; John Z. Argoudelis, sword bearer; Earl Jensen, standard bearer; William B. Price, color bearer; Frank E. Wylie, sentinel;

James L. Baskerville, LaFara E. Brown and Lloyd H. Lawrence, hermits; Arthur D. Grimpe, Fred J. Pool and Charles M. Gundelach, guards; William H. Douglas, soloist; Theron J. Converse, organist; Charles W. Drott, stereopticon; Lester J. Love and George W. MacLean, instructors.

At the meeting last week past commanders of Joliet Commandery signed their names in spaces especially provided in a new, large bible that is used on the altar. Howard M. Snapp, Jr., a past commander and an officer of the grand commandery of Illinois, signed the names of the past commanders who are dead and for those living who no longer reside in Illinois. The first commander, who served in 1858, was Nelson D. Elwood. The bible was presented to the Commandery by Edward A. Blatt. The retiring commander, Dr. Albers, presented three bibles for use by the hermits, replacing those that have been in use so long that they are almost worn out.

Keep Milk in Reducing Diet, Says Expert

Don't omit milk products when you want to reduce.

Many women and girls believe that milk is fattening, so they omit it from reducing diets. But this is a mistaken idea, since all nutritionally sound reducing diets include milk and milk products, says Harriet Barto, University of Illinois dietetics instructor.

Only diets supplying more calories than your body can use fattening—not any one food. Miss Barto says it is a common food fallacy to consider that milk is a "fattening" food. It is not.

In fact, many cuts of meat contain three times as much fat per serving as a cup of whole milk.

Research studies show that milk furnishes more calcium than any other food. In addition, all the vitamins that are known to be needed by man for good health are found in milk. And milk also furnishes high-quality proteins.

In planning a reducing diet, include foods that are rich in minerals, vitamins and high quality protein but low in carbohydrates and fats. Since even whole milk has less calories than many other good sources of protein and vitamins, be sure to include milk in low-calorie diets, says Miss Barto.

PIANO RECITAL

Mrs. Esther Fields Davies, piano instructor will present her pupils in a recital in the Richard St. Methodist church, Joliet Friday evening, June 22, at 7:45 p.m. The following pupils from Mokena will be among those on the program: June and Wayne Swanberg, Allen Grybash, Sue Ann Shoop, Gale Harling, Alma Lauffer, and Patricia Walsh, also Kent Engel of New Lenox. The public is invited.

One hundred sixty-six Navy men wintering over in the Antarctic were supplied with 962,383 pounds of food. Half of this is reserve supply in case ships can't reach the bases in 1956-57. Navy buildings housing 166 Americans in Antarctica were built to stand minus 100 degree temperatures and plus 100 knot winds.

Analyze Your Shoe Wardrobe Before Buying

By analyzing your present shoe wardrobe, you can wisely decide what kind of shoes to buy.

Ellen Hansen, University of Illinois textiles and clothing instructor, says to evaluate your shoes on the basis of style, material, color and height of heel.

The styles of your shoes should match your activities, just as your clothes do. If you walk a lot, you will probably want to choose an oxford or pump-style shoe with a low or medium heel. You'll also need dressy and evening shoes for certain occasions.

Materials are important in planning a shoe wardrobe. Calf and kid are good throughout the year; patent leather, linen and straw are worn chiefly in spring and summer; suede and velvet are for winter.

Color too is seasonal. White, beige and pastels are designated for spring and summer. Brown, except in lighter tones and in combination with other colors, is usually reserved for winter. Black and the darker bright colors, such as red and green, may be worn in any season. Navy also is now being worn throughout the year.

The material and color of your shoes depend not only upon the season, but upon the styles, colors and fabrics in your clothing wardrobe. Miss Hansen reminds you to consider all of these factors when buying shoes.

Looking for Someone!

There has been considerable furore lately among the heavies due to the abdication of Rocky Marciano and the increasing difficulty of Archie Moore to keep his poundage down to the limits prescribed for the light heavyweights.

One can scarcely pick up a TV magazine or sports paper without seeing the frantic claims by this or that manager for this or that boy.

But all are concerned with the heavyweight crown. This is not surprising. The heavyweight title in boxing is the big one, with the big gate and the big purse. That is the one people remember. Persons who never saw a fight, and have no interest in boxing and couldn't tell you the difference between a welter and a featherweight, let alone the name of the champion in either division, know about John L. Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffery, Johnson, Willard, Dempsey, Tunney, Braddock, the Brown Bomber and now Marciano.

A heavyweight title fight, even the challenger may be a prima donna, will outdraw any of the championship goes in the other divisions. In short the public likes the heavyweights.

On the basis interest in the Democrats national convention this summer should be at a low ebb. The Democrats do not have any heavyweights.

But if one is looking for lightweights the Democrats present some of the finest talent in the world—Stevenson, Ke-fauver or Harriman.

And if you like them even lighter, say feather or flyweight, the Demos have Sen. Humphrey and Michigan's governor, "Soapy" Williams—and you can't hardly get them no lighter than that.

It will be one of 17 such meetings being held in various parts of the state in the seventh year of the association's program to help the parents and students learn about the University, get their questions answered, and get acquainted with each other.

The meeting in Chicago will be at 8 p.m. (CDT) in the LaSalle Hotel. In charge is Samuel Shkolnik, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago, Cook county chairman for the association. Mrs. Jacob Van Emden, 2724 W. Sunnyside Ave., Chicago, is Cook county chairman for the University of Illinois Mothers Association which is cooperating in the meeting.

Similar meetings will be held June 27 in Waukegan and June 28 in St. Charles.

Neuberg, assistant dean of men; Stanley W. Rahn of the University Housing Division; and Harold W. Temmer, examiner and recorder, Chicago Undergraduate Division on Navy Pier.

Color slides of the campus will be shown, and a get-acquainted coffee hour will follow the formal session.

Invites Grade Musicians to Join New Summer Band

Something new in a summer recreational program is now in the process of being organized. Invitations have gone out to all seventh, eighth, and ninth grade band students in the Lincoln-Way high school area to participate in a community upper grades summer band. This band will meet at the high school once or twice each week for a period of music and recreation. The schedule will include rehearsals of new music and technical studies, sectional practice as well as individual help, and a recreation period that would be planned by the students who participate. Lincoln-Way high school students, under the supervision of Robert C. Taylor, band director at Lincoln-Way, will help with this program. All area students who have received invitations to participate in this program are urged to return their cards as soon as possible so that there will be no delay in starting the program.

WAVES are first enlisted as seaman recruits, USN, and are sent to the U. S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, d., for nine weeks of recruit training.

Tinley went into the lead in their half of the 3rd inning when Dennie Tattum opened with a home run. Eggert walked and went to second when Gobel was safe on a fielder's choice. Willie singled, scoring Eggert and Gobel. Hoffman was thrown out at first base to end Tinley's scoring.

Mokena added another hit in the 3rd inning when Erickson scored on a fielder's choice on Sayers. Semetis tied the score in the fourth inning with a home run. In the fifth inning, Yunker drew a pass, Sayers singled; and Yunker scored the winning run when Lauffer singled to left.

Sportabout by JACK MAYPOLE

Fiberglass boats right now are about one of the most controversial items on the market. You can hear them alternately cursed and praised at regular intervals.

Many years experience in handling boats convinces us that right now there are too many folks dashing into the business who know fiberglass and don't know boats and who know boats and don't know fiberglass.

It also is our belief that competition gradually will eliminate those now trying to operate under the wrong combination.

The fiberglass craft is proving to be a factor in the boating field and will continue to be a high class product when properly produced. One firm right now uses in its advertising the letter of a man who used such a boat in the eastern seaboard floods and who stated that his fiberglass boat survived where others were destroyed.

Competition is going to take care of the misfits in the field because fiberglass makers are up against stiff competition from established aluminum boat manufacturers who have had more time to prove their products and who now put out excellent jobs.

The fiberglass people not only must meet this competition but must better it if they are to succeed.

Right now we know of three firms that combine the necessary requisites and are going ahead. These are Plastic Fabrications, Inc., of Miami; Glasscraft of Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Winner Manufacturing company of Trenton, N.J.

These firms seem to us to meet qualifications of design, eye appeal and easy handling. In addition the hulls seem to be of a right consistency for rigidity. This is important in a fiberglass boat as the craft must be resistant to heat and freezing without becoming too brittle.

Question - How do I go about painting a fiberglass hull?

Answer - There are two companies that to my knowledge have a good primer to use on fiberglass. They are the C. A. Woolsey Co., and the Andrew Brown Co. Any good marine enamel can be used over these primers.

Mazon Speed Bowl Fans Will See New Talent on Sunday

More new faces are expected in the lineup at the stock car races Sunday in the Mazon Speed Bowl, but thus far the old favorites have carried off most of the cash prizes.

Bob Scroggins, a veteran from the 1955 season, won last week's feature race. The Joliet ace had been threatening since the season opened, winning once, placing second once and third another time in lesser preliminary events.

Last week's main event victory puts him with Bernie Wilhelm of Joliet and Dan Curley of Milwaukee, both veterans, and newcomer Paul Burrow of DeKalb in the feature race winners' column.

Among the drivers who will be bidding for their first feature victories Sunday will be Rheinhardt DeKing of Aurora, Bill Barnes of Rockdale, Jack Tyne of Streator, Harold Locke of Ottawa, Walt Kowalczyk of Morris and Jolietans Clem Lewandowski and Walt Soland.

Time trials Sunday will start at 1:30 p.m. and the first race at 2:30 p.m. There will be four heat races, a handicap event, 15 lap semifinals and 30 lap feature.

Results last Sunday:
Feature - Bob Scroggins, Joliet, 1st; Rheinhardt DeKing, 2nd; Bill Barnes, Rockdale, 3rd.

1st heat - DeKing, 1st; Bernie Wilhelm, Joliet, 2nd; Barnes, 3rd.
2nd heat - Scroggins, 1st; Clem Lewandowski, Joliet 2nd; Jack Tyne, Streator, 3rd.

3rd heat - Dan Curley, Milwaukee, 1st; Walt Soland, Joliet, 2nd; Harold Locke, Ottawa, 3rd.
4th heat - Len Donley, Joliet, 1st; Walt Kowalczyk, Morris, 2nd; Stan Foreman, Sheridan, 3rd.

Handicap - Wilhelm, 1st; Curley, 2nd; Barnes, 3rd.

Mokena Small Frys Lead Tri-County Loop -- 3 Wins, No Defeats

The Mokena Small Frys continued their winning ways this past week and as a result of their fine play lead the Tri-County League with a 3-0 record.

Last Thursday in their first league game at home this year Mokena provided the home fans with plenty to cheer about as they rallied in the last inning to score 2 runs and pull a thrilling 2-1 victory from the fire, against a tough New Lenox team. New Lenox had scored their run in the top half of the 6th and only a terrific double play had prevented further damage.

Refusing to give up Mokena fought back in their half of the 6th to win the game. Sayers walked, Muehler sacrificed and both runners advanced an extra base when the pitcher threw wild trying to catch Muehler. Kruzich and Yunker then bunted perfectly to squeeze home

Will Inoculate Dogs Against Rabies at Clinic Saturday

All dog owners in the village of Mokena are to be given the opportunity of having their dogs inoculated for rabies and at the same time provide them with a license.

The village board has made arrangements to have a veterinarian present at the village hall in Mokena this Saturday, June 23 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. to give the rabies shots. Village clerk Alvin Sorensen will be there to sell dog licenses. No dog can have a license without a rabies certificate and the state of Illinois requires all dogs to be inoculated against rabies.

Police League Team at Tinley Taps Auburn 8-3

The newly organized Tinley Park police baseball team easily took the measure of the Auburn Park nine from Chicago to the tune of 8-3.

Tinley opened the first inning with Siemsen working a walk and went to second when O'Neill was thrown out at first base. Hartwig flied to center and Siemsen scored on Bob Rodger's sharp single to center. Roger Hug singled off the third baseman's glove, but died on base when Erickson was thrown out at first.

The hard-hitting Tinley crew went to work in the second inning when Jerry Miller led off with a hard-hit double to left field and scored on Stege's single thru the infield. Siemsen followed with a base on balls. The second baseman juggled O'Neill's grounder and Stege scored. Hartwig grounded to third forcing O'Neill at second and Siemsen crossed the plate. Rodger was safe at first when the second baseman failed to handle his grounder and Hartwig accounted for the fourth run in this inning.

The teams traded runs in the remainder of the game, which ended in a victory for Tinley 8-3. Coach McBurney and Police Chief Harold Moore have assembled a strong aggregation and believe Tinley will be a serious threat to win the league championship.

The Tractor Problem

This is the time of year when highway drivers face an added peril—the farm tractor.

Routine hazards—narrow roads, cars with too much horsepower and therefore too much speed, and too many and too long trucks—make driving difficult enough but now the highway driver faces an additional handicap in the farm tractor.

Whether it is that some farmers are trading work or are working widely separated parcels of land, or for some other reason, the fact remains that there are quite a few farm tractors on the roads at this time of year.

It is conceded that farmers have a right to and will continue to use the roads in moving tractors and attached equipment to fields that are widely separated but in doing so they should travel on the shoulders instead of in the regular traffic lanes.

Using the regular lanes of travel the slow moving tractors cause traffic jams and sometimes accidents. A dip in the road can conceal a tractor from the view of the driver of a fast moving passenger car until it is too late for him to stop and perhaps approaching vehicles prevent him from swerving to the side.

The resultant crash is usually fatal to the farmers and sometimes to the car driver.

Such tragedies could be avoided by the tractor operator traveling along the shoulder of the road.

Highlights Of Farm Life

By W. F. Whiteside
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Advisor

The 4H Share the Fun programs were completed last week and three acts were picked to represent Cook county at the district program on July 5 at St. Charles. They are a trumpet solo by Roy Nickel, Elgin, Washington 4H club; a solo by Charlene Mars, Steger, Clover 4H club; and a dance by girls of the Clever Clover 4H club in Arlington Heights. Marlene Krambeer of the same club will compete for mistress of ceremonies. Audrey Mascitti, Steger, was selected as the public speaking contest winner. The Share the Fun programs were graced with some very talented boys and girls. Those of you who plan to attend the South Cook 4H Fair in Chicago Heights, August 17, 18 and 19, will see many of these same youngsters perform. I am sure they will provide you with excellent entertainment.

A grain sorghum variety trial has been planted on the Emil Hempel farm on 115th street, near Ridgeland avenue. Farmers have expressed interest in grain sorghums since corn allotments have been in effect. I hope this variety trial, established in cooperation with the University of Illinois, will offer some answers with respect to grain sorghums in Cook county. I will report progress of this trial from time to time.

Melvin Rohlwing, Matteson, was elected to the Board of Directors of the Soil Conservation District at their meeting last week. He replaces Donald Doctor of Orland Park who resigned. Donald was formerly chairman of the district and did much to guide the organization thru its formative years. Minott Siliman, Jr., Area Conservationist, explained the working relationship between the Soil Conservation Service and the local district. Bill Stelter, Chairman of the District Board urged the directors to contact neighboring farmers and explain the benefits of good land management. The aim of the district is to establish conservation practices on farm land in south Cook county. A conservation farm plan on your farm is just good business. The district will give technical assistance at no charge. Charles Fletcher, farm planner for the district will be happy to work with you on a conservation plan. Just contact one of the district directors or myself.

Cutworms have been causing considerable damage to corn during the last week. I have visited several fields where stands have been reduced 50 percent. It is getting rather late to replant, however those of you who need silage, may wish to do so. If many small cutworms are present, apply one pound of dieldrin per acre, disk the soil immediately and replant. If corn is already replanted, observe field carefully. If damage becomes apparent, apply one-half pound of dieldrin as a band treatment over the row. Apply the insecticide with as much water as possible.

Moths of the corn borer are flying and will be looking for corn plants to deposit their eggs. Early corn should be watched carefully for the egg masses, and farmers should be prepared to apply DDT early in July if infestations are severe.

Speaking of spraying, many of you will be using 2,4-D. When applying 2,4-D, watch for sensitive plants, such as tomatoes or soybeans nearby, as 2,4-D is deadly when in contact with these plants. The spray will drift a considerable distance, especially the ester type. Use the amine type and apply the spray on a calm day if tomatoes or soybeans are located near by.

I spent a week at Dixon Springs, Ill., touring the experiment station there. This is a remarkable operation of 5400 acres. Over 5000 cattle and 2000 sheep are fed and cared for on the station. The average corn yield on the station is 65 bushels, and yields of 100 bushels or 300 pounds of beef or mutton is not uncommon. The purpose of the station is to develop a system of farming, utilizing a maximum amount of forage and grasses. The land is to be covered a maximum amount of time. Forages are used in livestock production. Even more remarkable is the fact that of a 64,000 thousand dollar budget last year, 55,000 was returned through sale of products. For an experiment station to nearly pay its own way is excellent management. Establishment of one new idea would easily pay one thousand and percent interest on the remaining 9,000 dollars. Of human interest is the camp for boys in custody of the youth commission. These boys work at the station as part of the commissions rehabilitation program. A wholesome outdoor life with plenty of activity can do wonders for any boy or adult.

Two soil experiment field tours are coming up soon, one at Joliet on June 29, and the other at DeKalb on July 6. Attend one of these tours and get the latest results on soil and crop experimental work.

Opens Play Yard Contest in Cook County

The 14th annual Cook county play yard contest, conducted under the auspices of the Chicago Motor club, is off to a fast start, with seven entries received the first two days.

The entries and the sections they represent in the contest are:

William H. Radke, Brookfield, northwest; Rev. Alva Tompkins, 1629 N. Orchard St., Chicago, north; The Lutheran Day Nursery, 1302 N. Fairfield, Chicago, north; Mrs. Ray Schurman, 337 W. 95th St., Chicago, south; John F. O'Brien, 1045 S. Clarence Ave., Oak Park, west; George E. Merker, Jr., 18426 Dixie Hwy., Homewood, west; and Mrs. John Weber, 701 Warner Ave., Lemont, southwest.

Each entry is eligible to win one of the three prizes of $100, $50 and $25 to be awarded each of the five sections of the county as well as the grand prize of $250 for the best play yard in the entire county. Judging will be in the north, northwest, west, southwest and south.

Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Motor club, declared: "These people are making worthwhile contributions to the safety of children in their communities. Play yards keep children off the streets and safe from traffic hazards. This contest is conducted to point out the need for play yards and to encourage individuals and groups to create more of them."

The contest, of course, is open to all private neighborhood play yards in Cook county. Excluded, of course, are those belonging to Chicago Motor club employees or anyone else connected with the contest. School district, park and other tax-supported public playgrounds are not eligible.

Entry blanks, which can be obtained thru any Cook county Motor club branch office, or at the main offices, 66 East South Water St., Chicago, must be postmarked not later than midnight, Aug. 17, 1956.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all who sent flowers, cards and gifts, and to all who visited me during my recent illness in the hospital, especially to the Rev. George Martin.

MRS. RUBY MANGUN

Arthur Nelson has returned home from Silver Cross hospital where he was a medical patient for 10 days. He will be confined to his bed for six weeks. A potluck supper, followed by a business meeting will be held by the Methodist Dramatic club June 22. All members and friends are invited to attend both the supper and the business meeting which will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Crisman at 7 o'clock. Those needing transportation are asked to call Mrs. Gerald Johnson. Mrs. Phillip Zellar who had been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tarrant for two weeks, was taken to Silver Cross hospital this past week, where she is a medical patient. Mrs. Evelyn Whitaker, who has been seriously ill the past few weeks, underwent major surgery Friday in Silver Cross hospital.

The Royal Neighbors met for dessert-coffee and their regular monthly meeting June 13 at the Lions den. Hostesses, Mrs. Nancy Peterson and Mrs. Corrine Peterson served dessert-coffee at one o'clock. Mrs. Edith Savers, oracle, conducted the business meeting that followed.

Plans were made for the annual picnic to be held in place of the next meeting July 11 at the Lions den. Plans were also made to rehearse for the county convention to be held this fall in Mokena. Rehearsal will be held Friday night, June 22 at the VFW hall in Mokena.

The annual Memorial service followed the meeting, after which bunco was played and prizes were awarded the Mesdames Mary Marshall, Edith Savers, Myrtle Alexander, Corrine Peterson, Gladys Lyman and also Richard Peterson.

The Friendly Neighbors club met June 14 at the home of Mrs. Wilma Baldwin for a picnic dinner. The chaplain, Mrs. Ma Linda Camden, opened the meeting with prayer, and read an inspirational poem. A box lunch was planned for the July meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Elsie Carter.

Fifteen mothers and 20 children attended the annual picnic of the Second Child Study club held Wednesday morning June 13 at Highland park. A pot luck dinner was served at noon. The club will not meet again until September.

The New Lenox Riding club met Sunday for their monthly meeting and gathering. They enjoyed a trail ride at one o'clock, and the business meeting followed at five o'clock at the home of Bob French in Frankfort. Dr. C. W. Ingmire, veterinarian from Joliet, presented the Drs. Atrill and Ingmire challenge trophy to the co-winners of the recent membership show, Sandy Eden and Don Warning. Winners of the same show were given their ribbons. Plans are being made for a moon light ride to be held soon.

Mrs. Thor Larson opened her home last Thursday evening to the regular monthly meeting of the women's guild of the Grace Episcopal church. Mrs. Karl Johnson assisted the hostess. Routine reports were made and plans were discussed for the coming annual carnival which is scheduled for Saturday, July 14 on the church grounds. God No Kill-joy, Declares Writer

By Rev. George W. Casey
Paulist Feature Service

In a recent popular play, an elderly gentleman, drinking a cup of coffee with great relish exclaims, "That's so good it is a wonder that someone hasn't made it a sin."

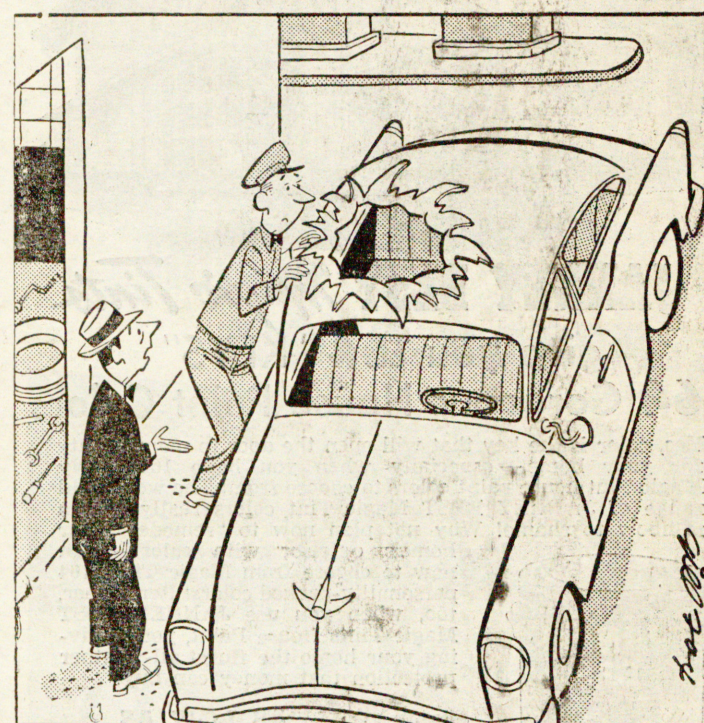

This type of remark inevitably get laughter and applause. But, it suggests one of the most harmful fallacies that irresponsible writers try to impress upon the public mind—that religion, and moralists in general, are just kill-joys. These same writers then turn around and pose as our liberators, freeing us from the needless restrictions and obsolete inhibitions called morals.

But no laws of God, whether engraved in our natures or set forth in the Bible, exist for their own sake or simply to hamper freedom. All true laws exist for the good of all. If they do not restrict, it is only to give a greater thrust in the direction of the greater good of all.

The laws that surround sex for example do not exist because sex is an evil thing. Sex is God given. It was implanted in human nature to guarantee the continuance of our race. Within the framework of marriage sex expression can be as beautiful as anything in human life. And the control of sex must be specific and have strong sanctions. They must include conventions, standards of modesty, social scorn, and rigid laws as the outer defenses of sex morality, and the fear of God within. Nothing is a sin because it happens to give pleasure. Sin is selfish enjoyment at our neighbor's or God's expense. To jeer at conventions and the lawful restrictions of sex is to menace those great foundations of society, the family and marriage; it is to scoff at the order which the All Seeing and All Wise Lawgiver has established.

Cook County Gets Million in Gas Tax

Cook county has been allotted over one million dollars as its share of motor fuel taxes paid into the state treasury during May. This was announced today by state finance director Morton H. Hollingsworth.

The exact sum to be received by Cook county is $1,184,285—almost half of the total allotted all 102 Illinois counties of $2,476,234.

Business and Finance

Maurice P. Angland

The Federal Reserve Board on April 12, 1956 raised the re-discount rate and started to sell some of its holdings of government securities to banks and this had the effect of tightening of credit from banks and also the raising of interest rates that must be paid to borrow money.

The Federal Reserve Board was given the power to control credit and it is hoped will do so without political considerations of any kind. However, since the Federal Reserve Board is appointed by the President, it is most difficult to keep such activities out of the political sphere entirely. Many critics are blaming, rightly or wrongly, the tightening of credit for the slow-down in automobile sales due to tighter credit to auto dealers, and other soft spots in the economy, we hear many critics of this Federal Reserve Board action and it is predicted by some financial writers that the Federal Reserve Board will loosen credit by not later than the last of August—either thru further purchase of government securities from the banks and/or adjusting the rediscount rate. Purchase of government securities by the Federal Reserve, from banks, leaves cash available for loans.

FLATIRON is a fairly new word and it is used to describe the present financial policy of our government. It is meant to mean safe middle course between inflation and deflation.

When dollars are few to take care of the growing needs of the country, we say money is "tight". In periods of tight money credit is curtailed, loans are called, interest rates are raised, mortgages are harder to get and the interest is higher, and business finds it difficult to secure the capital needed for research and expansion. If such a tight money situation continues, the country may go into a business slump.

Every depression this country has ever had, has occurred during a period of tight money.

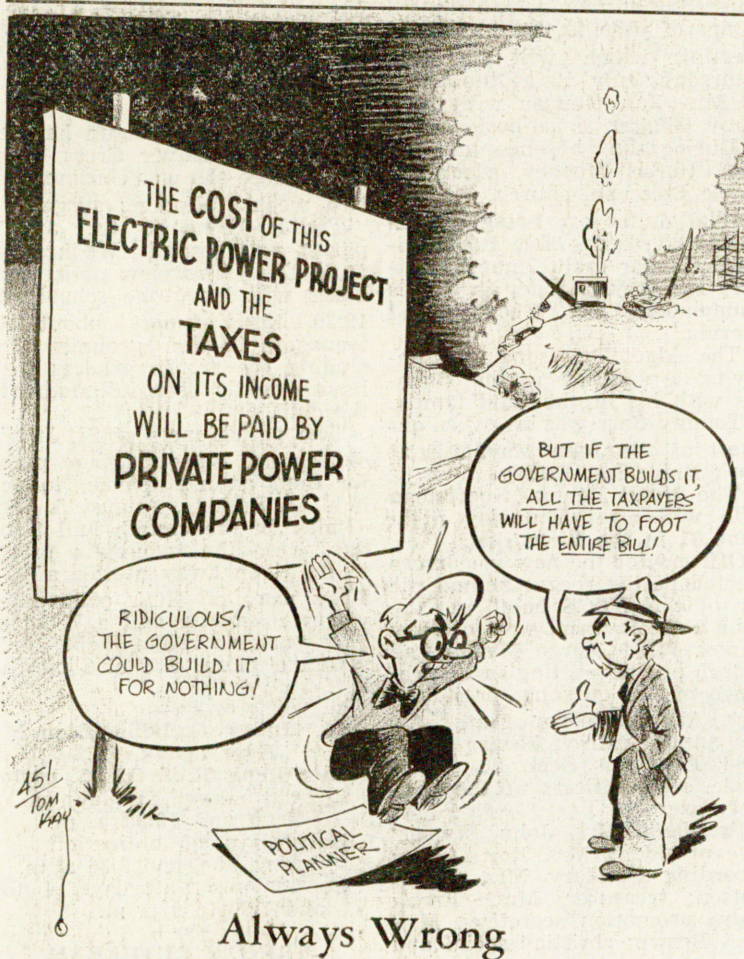

When too many dollars are issued (and credit too easy), just the reverse can happen. Business finds it easy to obtain credit, interest rates are cheap, installment buying is encouraged. When dollars are easy to get, the value of the dollar shrinks, it purchases less, and we have inflation.

It was many years before the Government realized that it had the power to control the availability of dollars and credit as well. The laws giving this power are now on the books and, properly used, they could be a powerful safeguard against both inflation and deflation.

The recent decision of the Federal Reserve Board to put the brakes on credit is an excellent illustration of Government action to prevent or to slow inflation. If the past history of the declining purchasing power of the dollar is any guide to the future, the purchasing power will continue to decline over the years, but at a "controlled" rate. The increasing demands of our growing population, the increasing demands of business for expansion and growth (an estimated $36 billion this year) will be met with an adequate supply of dollars. Thru control of the number of dollars in circulation, plus credit control, our fears of runaway inflation or depression, should be lessened.

A good many economists connected with our large corporations, are of the opinion that the constantly rising demands of labor unions for greater and greater increases and benefits, have been the greatest force in lowering the purchasing power of the dollar. Wage rates of the steel industry will soon be decided again and these rates set the pattern for other unions.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Work Longer To Pay Taxes, Statistics Show

Many Americans (working a Tax Foundation) clock a 40-hour week, but not entirely for themselves—20 hours go to provide themselves and their families with the necessities of life, such as clothing and housing; the remaining 20 hours (1 1/2 days) go to pay the cost of government, or in plain old words "go for taxes".

The growth of local, state and federal governments over the years has meant that the average wage earner must toil longer to be able to pay his taxes.

As the federal government is the biggest business in the world, it takes the biggest bite out of the paycheck. The federal government employs 2,500,000 civilian workers; pays, equips and feeds nearly 3,000,000 men and women in the armed forces; owns 838,000,000 acres of land plus 2 1/2 billion square feet of floor space; and operates truck fleets, power projects and airlines. To get some idea of the circumference of the "biggest business in the world", Congress in 1953 created the second bipartisan Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. This Commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, has made approximately 314 recommendations to improve the federal government and to save the taxpayer billions of dollars each year.

As a result of the Hoover Report progress has been made to curtail federal business activities, although Congress itself has not fully concurred. The Hoover Commission pointed out that approximately 2500 government commercial and industrial-type facilities existed in the Department of Defense alone. In January 1956, the Department of Defense proposed to discontinue the Department of Defense 56 commercial-type operations. Four of these proposals were turned down by the House Appropriations Committee, including a rope walk manufacturing plant and chain manufacturing plant at Boston Naval shipyards. On the other hand, unless the senate disagrees, the defense department may discontinue coffee-roasting plants, cobbler shops, bakeries, office equipment repair shops and cement mixing facilities.

But no sensible citizen can face the facts in the Hoover Report without acknowledging the gravity of the problem it reveals. By following discussions on the findings of the Hoover Commission every citizen will get to know his government better and support recommendations which will make it strong and financially sound. This is a duty every citizen owes himself and his children.

Gravy-Trailers

Now that Illinois is building new and repairing its old highways the legislature should enact a realistic truck license law. There is no question but that trucks are responsible for the major damage done to roads. Tests carried out under the direction of qualified experts have supplied proof for such contention.

A realistic law would be one requiring freighters to pay a ton-mile user charge.

The trucking interests, of course, are opposed to such a law. They don't want any part of ton-mile charges which would make them pay in relation to the actual use they get from the highways.

As it is the trucks pound the highways to pieces and contribute very little for their upkeep or rebuilding.

The truck industry has been riding a "gravy trailer" since highway freighting began. It is time of put them off.

time the whole group has had a chance to get together.

Gesell emphasizes that it will be up to members who attend the Springfield meeting to decide whether there shall be a statewide Key club organization. Some of the projects tentatively suggested for the group to sponsor include general support of 4-H Club work in Illinois, work with and thruout the Illinois 4-H Foundation in fund-raising activities and participation in other statewide 4-H activities.

Other committee members appointed on a temporary basis until the August 12 meeting are Martha Massie, Colusa; Mary Jane Smith, Ellery; Frances Nelson, Wataga; Russell Youmans, Ogdenville; Marilyn Perry, Adrian; Jim Mueller, Taylor Ridge; Judy Hage, Yorkville; Delbert Denby, Girard; and Mary Piper, Sharon, Wis.

Bank Reports Many Farmers Making Loans

(Community News Service) Altho it did not attempt to relate it to farm prosperity, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports in its monthly publication, "Business Conditions" that "just about every type of farmer is borrowing... about in proportion to their importance on the rural landscape."

In a recent survey, the federal reserve bank found: Tenant farmers, who make up 40 per cent of farm operators in the Corn Belt, took out 40 per cent of the loans. In the dairy area, where they constitute a smaller fraction, they took out one-fourth the loans.

Farmers under 35 years old, who constitute one-fifth the farmers in both Corn Belt and dairy area, took out one-fifth the loans.

Operators of farms of 260 acres and over, who account for one-third of the value of production in the Corn Belt, but only 18 per cent of the farms, took out one-third the dollar value of loans.

The Northern Trust company of Chicago in its monthly review found "divergent tendencies among major industries are so pronounced as to cause uncertainty about the trend of business as a whole."

While auto production is down, that of industrial and commercial machinery, which employs more labor and materials, is up 20 per cent in April over a year ago, the bank said. While non-farm private residential construction in April was off $1.4 billion, or 8 per cent, compared so that total building was less to a year ago, other private construction, including farm, was up $1 billion, or 7 per cent, bank noted.

FORD sets 500-mile record at Indianapolis Speedway

Again proves nobody outperforms Ford
... dramatic demonstration of the kind of performance and roadability that makes all your driving more fun in a Ford!

A Ford V-8 hurtled across the brick and asphalt surface of rough and testing Indianapolis Speedway... whirling through the tight turns and flashing over the straight stretches... to set a mark that no stock car ever reached before!

Previous to Ford's record run, no other stock car had gone even one lap at Indianapolis at 100 m.p.h., but one of Ford's laps was timed at the electrifying speed of 113.7 m.p.h. And Ford averaged over 107 m.p.h. for the full five hundred miles... close to the average set by the extremely costly, specially-built racer which won the Memorial Day "500"!

Ford fully realizes that the welter of claims and counter claims about "racing victories" (many of them completely contradictory) must be confusing and disillusioning to the public. Ford ran this race against time, over the true "Classic" distance and at the most famous track in America, in order to dispel this cloud of doubt and disbelief and prove that no one outperforms Ford!

Peter de Paolo, leader of the team of drivers that piloted the winning Ford, states flatly: "No other stock car could have equalled this performance!" And Pete de Paolo should know, for he was the first driver to win the "500" Classic with a better than 100 m.p.h. average. And now he comes back with a group of drivers to establish a stock car record with the great '56 Ford!

Ford wrote this new mark large and bold in the record books. And the whole Ford did the trick. From the hood-full of throbbing horsepower to the road-hugging rear end, Ford demonstrated that it has what it takes to make your driving more enjoyable. Convince yourself that driving a Ford can be real fun. Test drive a '56 Ford. There's a set of keys waiting for you, so come in and see us soon.

Sales Tax Tells Shopping Story In So. Suburbs

Christmas shopping brought Evergreen Park, location of a shopping plaza, within five per cent of the retail business of Chicago Heights, leading south suburban shopping center, according to figures for December, 1955, collections of the 2½ per cent state sales tax, released by State Revenue Director Richard J. Lyons.

Payment of $135,645 by 258 merchants in Evergreen Park for December compared with $141,250 paid by 635 merchants in Chicago Heights. For November, the figure was $94,603 to $118,166.

Indication that the jump was a seasonal one appeared in February figures for collection of the ½ per cent local sales tax, which showed Chicago Heights was again safely in front with $16,692 compared to $12,376.

This last figure placed Evergreen Park also behind Harvey, which reported $12,851 for February on the ½ per cent after trailing with $10,187 collected under the 2½ per cent for December. These are the last available figures for each tax.

Blue Island dropped from 11th to 13th place in Cook county, with $77,994 collected in December from 362 merchants and Oak Lawn from 15th to 18th, with $62,729 from 348 merchants.

The Plaza Christmas influence was also apparent for Park Forest, which ranked 22nd with $47,364 compared to 25th with $35,310 in November. Gains were shown by Lansing, 30th with $28,594 from 36th with $22,440, and Calumet City, 31st with $28,436 from 35th with $22,522. Of Calumet City's total, $15,526 came from eating and drinking places. Posen showed the largest gain, from $2,936 to $10,695, 68th to 50th but $7,369 of the total was for lumber, building, and hardware.

Interest Yet! On Tax Refunds

(Community News Service)

Refunds on excess withholdings from pay checks during the income tax year of 1955 have been mailed out past the $100 million mark, acting district director of internal revenue D. J. Luippold announced Friday as the deadline passed for refunds with six per cent interest being paid by the government.

These checks have gone to 1,198,000 taxpayers in the 26 northern counties of Illinois but there are still 300,000 taxpayers who have requested refunds who have not received them. If the checks continue to average $84 this will total another $25, 200,000. They will also get six per cent interest to the time they are certified to the treasury disbursing office for payment.

About 50,000 of the unpaid 300,000 may properly feel some doubt about getting their checks at least in the amount computed in their returns. These are the ones requesting refunds over $100 who will be summoned in for questioning concerning proof of their claims for dependency and deductions.

The treasury department this year has expanded its checkup on the little taxpayers because manpower has been freed by mechanization of the handling of returns.

With all the machinery and despite the questioning, all the refunds are expected to be taken care of by Aug. 1.

Tablet Marks Birthplace of GAR in Decatur

John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University

The simplest kind of an object often suggests an interesting story. In this case it was a badly soiled and battered Grand Army of the Republic badge that was worn at a national encampment of that organization some seventy years ago. It was found recently among the buttons and other assorted small trinkets such as one would expect in an old time "button box" or jar. This badge suggests the story of that once great veterans organization, now disbanded, that had its beginning in Illinois ninety years ago.

At the end of the Civil War there were more than a million men living who had served in the military forces of the nation. It was the thought of some of these men that there should be an organization among them to preserve the memory of departed comrades, to promote their mutual interests and to aid in the deserving widows and orphans of the soldier dead. Among those leading in this thought was Dr. Benjamin F. Stephenson of Springfield, who had served as surgeon in the 14th Illinois Infantry.

Dr. Stephenson began his efforts to form such an organization in Springfield early in 1866 but did not secure a ready response there. He accordingly transferred his effort to Decatur where the first post of the new organization, made up of 12 veterans, was established on April 6, 1866. This post was named for Amos Duncan, the first Macon county soldier killed in the war, and was designated as Post Number One.

After the establishment of this first post the movement spread rapidly. Other units were formed soon in Illinois and adjoining states. Before the end of the year it had become nationwide.

Its first national meeting was held at Indianapolis, Indiana, where representatives from ten states and the District of Columbia met on November 20, 1866, and elected General Stephen A. Hurlbut the first national commander. The second commander was General John A. Logan of Illinois, who served two years. Perhaps it was he more than any other one who cemented the organization together and gave it definite purposes. It was his General Order No. 11, proclaimed in the early spring of 1868, that established Memorial Day, already observed in Carbondale on the last Sunday in April two years previously.

A few years later—1877—the G.A.R. had its first paper established by George E. Lemon, a pension attorney in Washington. Through this and other papers established by state and local units, the G.A.R. wielded great influence. Hundreds of towns and villages had their post where one could see the flags, drums and fife so familiar in their gatherings at which a few older persons would recall seeing the members parade in their blue uniforms with polished brass buttons.

Practically all men who had served in the military forces of the national government between April 12, 1861 and April 9, 1865, and who had been honorably discharged came to join the organization. The peak of its membership came about 1890 reached a total of 408,487. It was held as a non-political group, but was actually a great power in politics from about 1872 to 1904. Much of the national legislation benefiting Union veterans and their survivors came through efforts of the G.A.R.

After 1890 death began to rapidly thin its ranks. In 1930, forty years after its largest enrollment, the membership had decreased to 21,000. On August 28-31, 1949, its last national encampment was held in Indianapolis, the place where it had been organized 83 years earlier. Only six of the 16 surviving Union veterans attended this last encampment. Now, 90 years after its formation, only one member—a Minnesota veteran 106 years old—remains. A similar organization of Southern States veterans was formed in 1889 and named the United Confederate Veterans. This group never had a membership greater than 50,000. Their stated objectives were about the same as those of the Union veterans. The United Confederate Veterans likewise held annual meetings until recent years. They also are now disbanded.

Those who travel that way may still pause in Decatur to read the inscription on the tablet at 253 Park Street. It says: "BIRTHPLACE OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC"

In a second floor room on this spot the Grand Army of the Republic was organized on April 6, 1866, by Dr. Benjamin F. Stephenson. This tablet is placed by the Department of Illinois Woman's Relief Corps, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, April 6, 1915.

When it was first formed, someone asked why the name "Grand Army of the Republic" was chosen. The ready response was, "Because it was a grand army."

Notes From Washington

Political forecasting now is too premature to be accurate. Too much can happen. But trends can be noted—along with basic strengths and weaknesses.

Checking Democratic sources, here's the picture as they see it: Presidential outcome, before a candidate is named, is highly speculative. Yet Democrats count on 89 electoral votes in 9 southern states—which stayed hitched in 1952. They add the four southern states voting for Eisenhower, believing they will return to the fold. That's 57 more. To this, they add Missouri and Oklahoma. Grand total, 167—90 more needed.

Democrats believe only a "slight defection" in the farm vote in farm-industry states like wheat plan has great significance. Illinois, Indiana, Ohio is need-cance, it could produce this "slight defection."

The usual tranquility of the Sigmund Bukowski home is being upset these days, and all because of a baby robin. The change began about a week ago when Davy found the little waif and decided to make a pet of it, and did just that. Then

Davy left for 4H camp, leaving it in sister Judith's care. The robin, now grown in strength and size has decided his cage is too confining, and following the Bukowski's about the house and leading Judith a merry chase from chair to table to window sill, could be tolerated. But it is baby robin's liking for baby LaVerne's feet, where he likes to perch and pick at the latter babe's toes, that is causing concern and has brought about the decision that one baby has to go. "Sometimes I think I should just open the door and let the robin go," says Mrs. Bukowski, "then I think about Davy and what he will say."

The Orland unit of the Cook County Home Bureau met in the Charles Bezdek home Friday afternoon, June 15. A very interesting lesson on how to harmonize glassware, china, silverware and linen was given by Mrs. Oscar Mack and Mrs. Sigmund Bukowski. The meeting, at which Mrs. Bezdek was hostess, was also attended by Mrs. Nick Caccis, Mrs. Roy Myrick, Mrs. Frank Buck, Mrs. Forrest Miller, Mrs. Katherine Ihlenfeld, Mrs. Arden Summerville, Miss Clara Myrick, Mrs. George Sayers, Miss Mary Ginder, Miss Lilian Mattsen, Mrs. John Lohmann, Mrs. Henry Andresen, Mrs. Edward McCarthy. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nick Caccis and Mrs. Miller.

It was 18 long stemmed roses for the Mrs. dinner out and a movie for both the Mr. and Mrs. a new television set for the family, callers and many cards that made their 18th wedding anniversary a particular happy one for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeves.

4H News

The monthly meeting of the Orland Boy's 4H club was held at Maue school, Monday evening June 11, with Don Gee presiding. Darrell Erickson read a thank you letter from William Whiteside, Cook county assistant farm advisor, for the club's contribution to the Pilcher memorial fund. Walter Bernard read a list of this year's projects and made corrections. Darrell Erickson gave a talk on the different prices of feed and grain. Wayne Matulis gave a talk on his rabbits. A wildlife talk and demonstration was given by James Haislet who exhibited his pet crow and discussed crows as pets. 4H shirts were sold and more ordered. The baseball game scheduled for June 17 was called off because of wet weather. Refreshments were served by David and Paul Bukowski and Ed Mrosek.

NOW THE HARVEST

For the days of the frugal New Englanders, who looked upon ostentation and luxury with disapproval, we Americans always have saved part of our money.

But not as a European peasant, for instance, typically saves his money—in a hole dug under the floor, or sewed into a mattress. We have "plowed back" our savings, invested them in wealth-producing enterprise, made them work for us. We have turned our seedcorn into grain.

Home accidents caused by tripping over excess electric wiring along the floor can be avoided by securing the cord to the floor with cellophane tape.

The outcome of a marriage depends somewhat on the income.

Laguna Woods

Mrs. Robert Anderson
Fieldbrook 9-2857

Mr. and Mrs. John Tabbert entertained Mr. and Mrs. Pichert and son of Sarasota, Fla., Sunday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter of Chicago were dinner guests at the Anderson home. In the early part of the evening, Mr. Tabbert and his guest Mr. Pichert joined Mr. Hunter and Mr. Anderson on the latter's breezeway and visited.

The Raymond Cebolds celebrated Mrs. Cebolds birthday last Saturday when many relatives from Chicago were guests in their home. Mrs. Cebolds' birthday was June 7.

The Cebolds children, Dawn and Raymond, Jr., received their polo shots Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride moved into their home on Redondo lane Friday. The McBrides have four sons, school age, who will attend St. Michael's school in Orland Park next school term. Several gentlemen from Laguna braved the inclement weather Friday evening and played golf at Oak Hills. Mr. Cebolds played nine holes and Mr. Nelson, Snedden, and Anderson played thru to the 13th hole when the rains came. Arthur Arnold was unable to attend as he had a strep throat and Mr. Woodbury's baseball team had a scheduled game in Orland Park. Mrs. Snedden and Mrs. Anderson went bowling while their husbands played golf. Next time the boys play golf perhaps more of the girls will turn out for an evening of bowling. The summer leagues will end in August and if anyone is interested it would be fun to have another couples nite and go bowling.

"Joey" Militello caught the biggest fish so far and we were beginning to wonder if there were any big ones at all after seeing the "bait" Mrs. Snedden has been catching and throwing back.

If you interested in going out to dinner this month will you call Andy? Speak up so we can make reservations soon. We'll go somewhere that has a private room and dance floor unless you have other ideas and if so we would like you to let us know.

The Tabberts enjoyed a picnic dinner in the forest preserves Sunday. Mrs. Tabbert fried six chickens and baked a cake for the outing. The thick foliage on the mighty trees saved them all from a thoro drenching and a good time was had by all. Janine Nelson and Charles Harris started their beginners swimming instructions Monday at the Y.M.C.A. and will finish their course tomorrow. Many of their school mates from Orland attended these classes.
